

A fundamental principle and commitment of COVE Paros hotel and each of its executives is to provide high-quality services and safe products to its customers, to apply environmental protection principles across all areas of its operations, to ensure the health and safety of both employees and customers, and to commit to all actions required by law and by the international standard ISO 14001:2015.

To achieve these goals, the hotel management implements an environmental management system that enables the establishment of procedures for defining environmental policies and objectives in the following four areas: a) energy consumption, b) water consumption, c) waste management, and d) the use of environmentally friendly consumable products.

The hotel is committed to the following:

- To comply with all legal and other environmental requirements.
- To take all necessary actions to ensure that no facilities cause nuisance to local residents and to consistently act to prevent environmental pollution.
- To provide necessary assistance and guidance to our partners to incorporate environmental care into their daily operations.
- To educate, motivate, and engage our staff in environmental issues and in our environmental policy.
- To develop a continuous improvement system based on medium-term plans, annual action programs, and regular audits, under the guidance of top management.
- To incorporate a full range of green features into the services and products we provide, such as non-use of toxic substances, use of recyclable materials, economical consumption of energy and water during usage, and options for reuse and recycling at the end of their lifecycle.
- To train our executives, fostering continuous ecological awareness and ensuring their optimal performance.
- To continuously monitor the results of the programs we implement and review the application of the environmental conditions we have set.
- To encourage our suppliers and partners to develop new products and services that are less harmful to the environment, revitalizing the market.

We are committed to continuous improvement, pollution prevention, and compliance with applicable legal and other requirements related to the environmental aspects of our hotel unit.

We provide a framework for setting and reviewing environmental objectives and targets. A significant achievement for COVE Paros is the awareness and commitment of the hotel management and staff to protect the place that hosts us, encouraging customers and partners to participate in this effort for a sustainable future.
